

OUR IMPACT IN 2017

How we brought communities together to help families build strength, stability and self-reliance through affordable homeownership

248 low-income families

(or 900 individuals) became new Habitat homeowners in 2017, helping to build their own safe, decent and affordable homes.

In addition 2,059 Canadian families

continued to benefit from their Habitat partnership, paying down their no-interest Habitat mortgage with affordable, geared-to-income payments.

Of the 248 families that moved into a Habitat home in 2017:

Two-parent families
Single-parent families

Families coming from market rental housing
Families coming from social or subsidized housing
Other living arrangements

540 children moved into Habitat homes

23 were newcomers to Canada (arrived in Canada in the last five years)

25 were Indigenous families

50% moved into homes designed with accessibility accommodations

$43 million in societal benefits were returned to the community. Research proves that the Habitat homeownership model generates a societal benefit return of $175,000 per family.

$57 million added to the affordable housing portfolio in Canada, representing the new Habitat homes built in 2017.

Breakdown by province:

Through other Habitat for Humanity housing programs in 2017:

140 Indigenous youth and women received skills training.

10 Indigenous families improved their living conditions through a project that brought access to clean drinking water on Pikangikum First Nation.

Over 700 youth, including at-risk youth, received on-the-job skills training and instruction, building confidence and personal leadership skills while earning over 13,000 volunteer hours.

Over 60,000 volunteers helped local Habitats across Canada build homes, operate ReStores and engage their communities in the work of Habitat. The number of hours they contributed was equivalent to over 550 full time employees.

1,579 Canadians volunteered with Habitat

for Humanity Canada Global Village to help families build their homes all over the world.

1001 people in Ethiopia, Malawi, Cambodia, Nepal, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Dominican Republic

now have new or improved housing, improved access sanitation facilities or upgraded training through Habitat Canada's international support.

Historically

3,386 families in Canada have partnered with Habitat to own their own home since 1985.

Globally, Habitat for Humanity International has helped more than 13.2 million people.
